Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) & Data Privacy

Title IV Federal & Yale Institutional Progress Norms and FERPA Compliance

Section 1: Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Standards

Federal regulations and Yale policy mandate that all financial aid and scholarship recipients maintain measurable progress:

1. Qualitative Component: Maintain cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 / 4.0 (or program-specific passing honors).

2. Quantitative Pace of Completion: Successfully complete at least 75% of cumulative attempted credit hours each academic term.

3. Maximum Timeframe: Complete undergraduate degree requirements within 150% of the published program duration (typically maximum 12 registered terms).

4. Appeals: Students failing SAP may file a formal documented appeal with Student Financial Services detailing extenuating personal, medical, or family hardships.

Section 2: Student Privacy (FERPA) & Data Security

• All application records, tax forms, income figures, and committee evaluations are protected educational records under FERPA.

• Automated evaluation data, transcripts, and video recordings are stored in encrypted partitions with audit logging.
